

White

A river of white
In a sea of light
Flashes as I dive
But I can't reach it

A shining chord
Or a blazing sword
I'll pick neither
So I can have both

Innocence in the eye
Chew a stalk of rye
And a hope for myself
To, for once, hope no more

A glint in the stars
That set us apart
As I fall from the moon
So that I may rise again

A mended heart and
A new head start
The sky will bind me
As it binds us all together

A blank notebook
Conflict retook
And now I will break
To again, be whole
So bleach my soul